- VISIT TUCSON

The City of Tucson is a diverse community that is compiled of primarily students, military personnel and the everyday workforce. Most commonly known as the college town of the University of Arizona, Tucson is about embracing and discovering what sparks your inner self. Offering an eclectic array of activities that will surely fill your time, Tucson boasts the title of “City of Gastronomy” from UNESCO for it’s rich agricultural history as well as its delicious food scene.

Located in Tucson is also the Davis-Monthan Air Force Base, home to the 355th Fighter Wing, part of the Air Combat Command. The base is best known as the location of the Air Force Materiel Command’s 309th Aerospace Maintenance and Regeneration Group, the aircraft bone-yard for all excess military and government aircraft.

In 2015 Banner Health and the University of Arizona Health Network merged to create a groundbreaking platform of academic medicine, research, instruction and patient care at three academic medical centers, to benefit Tucson and the entire state of Arizona

NEW YORK MAGAZINE

CITY OF TUCSON DESIGNATED, “CITY OF GASTRONOMY”, BY UNESCO IN DECEMBER OF 2015.

Many factors were considered when UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization) labeled Tucson the “City of Gastronomy”, including but not limited to the rich agricultural history, large number of local foods and improvement efforts of food production made by the University of Arizona.

Since the designation was received, the City of Tucson has made an effort to attract award-winning chefs, restaurants using local ingredients and artisans dedicated to making Tucson foods, beers and spirits. In the past three years, there have been over 90 articles covering the food scene in Tucson, which is currently valued at $29.5 million.

Marana is a town in Pima County, Arizona, located on the northwest side of Tucson, with a small portion in Pinal County. Marana is the fastest growing community in Southern Arizona, with a 2020 population of 49,395. Marana's population increased 41% between 2010 and 2020, and 157% between 2000 and 2010.

Marana is fast becoming known as the most business supportive community in Southern Arizona. With exceptional access to multimodal transportation, a newly reorganized Development Services Center and a local government that values corporate investment, businesses both large and small are taking advantage of development opportunities in Marana.

Marana is home to a number of world-class companies on the cutting edge of science and technology. These corporations provide high-quality jobs for the community and critical linkages to Marana's educational system, helping develop the next generation of innovative leaders. Partnerships between the business and educational sectors are frequent, with many companies opting to "adopt a school" and provide critical career and technological resources for students.

Marana's unique position straddling Interstate 10 just northwest of Tucson and only 90 minutes south of Phoenix contributes to its unique position as an emerging logistics hub. Running parallel with the I-10 is the Union Pacific Railroad, presenting another option for the movement of goods and services. The Town of Marana has also invested over the past decade in infrastructure improvements to the Marana Regional Airport, making it a popular facility for executive travel and general aviation.

The aerospace, aviation services and defense industries have a strong presence in the Metro Tucson area, specifically in Marana. As businesses of these types locate in clusters, several key goals are being accomplished for Marana: creation of high-paying, career oriented jobs for a strong economic base, attraction of retail to support population growth related to business cluster development, and finally, reducing the need for local businesses to seek suppliers or contractors for goods and services outside of the Marana area.

Tourism has long been a staple of the Southern Arizona economy. Visitors are drawn to the community's inspiring Sonoran Desert, which is suited to being outdoors year-round with 350 days of sunshine each year, scenic bike paths following the Santa Cruz River, the Saguaro National Park, and some of the finest desert golf courses in the U.S.
